

News in Review

Periodic Mailing from the South Carolina State Historic Preservation Office
Review and Compliance Division
July 2012

FALL TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

1. Advisory Council on Historic Preservation (ACHP)

The ACHP is the federal government agency in charge of overseeing Section 106 consultation across the nation. The ACHP provides in-depth training classes on Section 106 and is now providing webinars on topics. To register for current webinars, visit: <http://www.achp.gov/sec106webinar.html>. Additional webinars will be posted on this page.

2. National Preservation Institute (NPI)

NPI teaches a multitude of preservation courses and has announced its fall schedule. Fall workshops scheduled in the Southeast include:

- Section 106: A Review for Experienced Practitioners, Richmond, VA (September 18-19)
- NEPA Compliance and Cultural Resources, Richmond, VA (September 20-21)
- Cemetery Preservation, Tallahassee, FL (October 10-11)
- Cemetery Landscapes: A Practical Guide to Care and Maintenance, Tallahassee, FL (October 12)
- Section 106: Agreement Documents, Atlanta, GA (October 10-12)
- Section 4(f) Compliance for Historic Properties, Tallahassee, FL (November 14-15)
- Preservation Planning and Policy Development for Historic Roads, Tallahassee, FL (November 16)

To learn more about each seminar and to register go to <http://www.npi.org/>

3. American Cultural Resources Association (ACRA)

ACRA announces a fall conference on Cultural Resources: Section 106, Historic Preservation, and Tribal Consultation in Washington, DC. Speakers at the conference include staff from the ACHP, lawyers, consultants, and federal historic preservation staff. For more information, including the schedule and how to register, visit <http://www.cle.com/acra>.